- Commercial and Private development

Economy
- Economic recession
- Low visibility of Delaware as heritage destination
Where We’re Going

NCCHAP Vision Statement

Working with diverse groups and individuals as an umbrella organization, NCCHAP seeks to accomplish goals beyond the scope of any one cultural organization. NCCHAP is dedicated to sustaining New Castle as a historical place, and the organizations committed to that effort. By raising awareness and appreciation, we strive to preserve the city’s cultural heritage by engaging with stakeholder organizations and the New Castle community to promote New Castle history, incorporate archaeological preservation and interpretation into heritage planning, and offer heritage education programs.

NCCHAP Mission Statement

The New Castle Community History and Archeology Program is a collaborative venture that invests in the history and archeology of the City of New Castle. NCCHAP works to

- Promote interest and participation in New Castle’s historical and archeological heritage.

- Promote collaboration among agencies, organizations, and individuals to better preserve and sustain the community’s heritage.

- Enhance New Castle’s use by local schools as a historical resource.

- Educate diverse audiences about the many histories of New Castle.
Core Values

- Serve: NCCHAP serves both the community of New Castle, and its historical and archaeological resources.

- Preserve: NCCHAP works to maintain and preserve historical and archaeological sites of interest.

- Educate: NCCHAP educates its members and the community on the importance of sustainability and preservation needs that stem from its historical and archaeological value.

- Collaborate: NCCHAP will collaborate with other organizations and the community to plan for the present and future of the program.

Fundamental Questions

1. What about New Castle’s history and archeology demands such a high level of preservation?

2. How will heritage tourism prove to be a valuable asset for New Castle?

3. What roles does sustainability play in the actions of NCCHAP?

4. Why does NCCHAP place such importance on education?
Goals and Objectives for NCCHAP

Goals:
In the next three years, NCCHAP plans to:

1. Promote local awareness and community pride by advancing a broader interpretation of New Castle history to a local audience, emphasizing archaeology and historic preservation.

2. Educate diverse audiences about archaeology while reaching further into the city’s history, with special emphasis on post-colonial history.

3. Collaborate more extensively with stakeholders and residents in and around New Castle to preserve and present the city’s complex history in a cohesive manner.

“We need to be more visible, more active, and attract more support from the community..... The community needs trusted resources to help them learn about this history..” Cynthia Snyder, Director, New Castle Courthouse Museum
Objectives:

In order to promote in the next three years, NCCHAP must:

1. Increase marketing of NCCHAP programming in the local community
2. Emphasize the importance of local awareness
3. Maintain existing opportunities for community members to get involved
4. Increase visibility

In order to educate the community in the next three years, NCCHAP must:

1. Incorporate New Castle’s history into middle and high school curricula and programming
2. Teach New Castle’s post colonial history, involving groups such as Friends of Bellanca
3. Help community members understand the history within their homes
4. Teach local youth through firsthand experience

In order to collaborate in the next three years, NCCHAP must:

1. Increase stakeholder knowledge of NCCHAP
2. Include local businesses and property owners
3. Increase organization among stakeholders
4. Reach out to the University of Delaware

“Education should be the priority…
Education of the general population.”

John Martin, Delaware archaeologist
Proposed
Project 1: Website

With the wealth of information and resources on the website, and the necessity of online resources in our society, it is important to ensure that the website is clear and allows visitors to easily navigate and engage with the material.

NCCHAP proposes to undertake redesign, updating, reorganization, and expansion of the website, under the direction of Webmaster James Meek.

- Reorganize: streamlined, organized home page to highlight contact information and summary of NCCHAP for new visitors. Organize links into the tabs that navigate away from the home page.

- Redesign: professional format and style. Introduce sidebars to organize materials within each page. Projects, Events, Archaeology News—archaeology headlines, NCCHAP news.
(Links to Archaeological Institute of America Archaeology News section)

- Update: check, revise contact and resource links. Add Vision and Mission statements and Strategic Plan

- Expand: Community section for New Castle residents caring for historic homes, what to do if you uncover a historic resource, and the responsibilities of being a resident in New Castle. Links to other Delaware history and archaeological websites, and newsletters in related fields. A kids’ section—links to archaeology-related puzzles and games. Discussion board, for potential ideas. Volunteers section about roles that individuals can play, and who to contact for more information.

- Promote: plan!
UD art, computer science, Museum Studies, Communications, English, Visual Culture, Technical Writing programs are potential sources of professional and student design assistance.

- Paid or unpaid internships
- Class project or assignment.

These proposals focus on developing the website as a means of engaging visitors with NCCHAP’s activities and interests. The website should inspire people to educate themselves and others about the history and archaeology of New Castle, and encourage them to take part in the discussions and discoveries of the organization. And through the development of the website, NCCHAP can draw people into the rich resources of New Castle.

NEXT STEPS:

NCCHAP must address

  - Leadership
  - Audience
  - Management and daily operations

Implementation:

  - Handling data
  - Scheduling
Proposed Project 2:

Promoting New Castle and NCCHAP

Strong communication, networking, advertising, and communication will ensure success in future projects. With a few changes a more diverse population can be informed about NCCHAP.

NCCHAP proposes to promote collaboration and collaborative programming through expanded communication networks. NCCHAP shall also help to promote the activities of other groups with similar goals and objectives. By acting as a communication center, NCCHAP will achieve its goals as well as promote itself.

- Develop consistent Marketing Plan, focused on free/inexpensive, easy forms of marketing to attract newcomers and increase the public’s knowledge of NCCHAP events
  - Quarterly Events Posters in store windows
  - Local radio public service announcements
  - Expanded, updated email communication list
  - Website postings
  - Stakeholder group newsletter announcements
  - Networking NCCHAP: Blog/ Facebook/ Twitter to attract young people to programs: FREE, paperless (green) marketing and education
  - UD radio, sporting events, newspapers and online newsletters, and invite professors in relevant classes to make announcements

- Hold regular town meetings for planning and sharing ideas and information

Promotion is important as a primary goal because increased exposure now will help build support for projects and events. Besides adding new members from the public, promotion can add new stakeholders and encourage tighter networking.
Proposed Project 3:
Engaging the Local Schools

New Castle has a rich history to share with local schools. By broadening the educational potential of Historic New Castle to cover archaeology and all periods of its history, NCCHAP can gain more stakeholders in the surrounding schools.

Middle and Elementary Schools

- Project Purposes:
  - Teach and learn the histories of New Castle
  - Create a larger, closer sense of community
  - Expand NCCHAP connections and resources
  - Engage youth in their heritage and complement their education with hands-on, real life experience

- Objectives:
  - Kid-friendly, interpretive after-school programs for middle-school students to participate in hands-on archaeology, archaeology labs, or other museum activities, outside in heritage landscape of New Castle. Complement classroom studies

- Project Description:
  - Bring the schools to New Castle, and bring New Castle to the schools.
  - Develop programs and interpretations to correlate with the DE state education standards
  - Work with high school students to design, teach programs, mentor youth

William Penn High School

- Establish regular communications and promote opportunities for students and faculty
- Develop programs on 19th-20th century history
  - African American History: Underground Railroad, with New Castle Courthouse Museum
  - Demography and geography: High school teacher Kristin Taggart
- Provide community service opportunities for Honors Society, Student Council, Service Clubs
  - Archaeology partners with University of Delaware Anthropology
  - After-school programs for middle schoolers
Volunteer experience is rewarding, fulfills requirements for school, and educates students about the history of New Castle. This brings a younger crowd with new ideas and spunk to the community.

“This incorporation [of high school student volunteers into NCCHAP] could boost the morale of the community, and give willing students the chance to help out around town and experience college laboratory settings.”

Barry Joyce, Ph.D., UD History Education Program Coordinator

University of Delaware

- Teaching Teachers
  - History Education Program
    - Student teachers
    - Curriculum Development
  - In-Service Training, programs in 19th-20th century history, demography, geography, architecture
Proposed Project 4:

Community Archaeology and Education Plan

This priority promotes the goal of expanding archaeology education, and addresses the essence of community archaeology. It is imperative to get the community involved and interested in order to ensure the future of the past.

Overview of Project

- Objective:
  - Provide opportunities for people to broaden their way of thinking about the past, the people who lived it, and the values and meanings of the remains they left behind. In the short term, the program will target community members.
  - Special attention will be given to the stories of those left out of earlier histories (i.e. non white/upper class New Castilians)

- Methods:
  - Community excavation program
  - Exhibits of artifacts and documents
  - Programs and community workshops highlighting hands-on experiences
  - Lectures and field trips to other archaeological sites of interest

- Target audience:
  - Baby boomer generation approaching retirement age. These individuals already have extensive experience and wisdom that NCCHAP can help them share with others as we instill in them a new understanding of the past. The program seeks to expand how they view and accept presented histories.
  - The addition of these mature, skilled individuals to NCCHAP ranks will give us a great advantage. Having such a volunteer corps available to aid NCCHAP educational programming will be invaluable.

Jim Meek,
NCCHAP Webmaster, volunteer, and historic property owner
Future Plans

The Community Archaeology Plan must address

- Process of selecting excavation locations
  - Proposed construction sites
  - Private v. public ownership
  - Threatened sites
  - High research and educational value and integrity
    - NCCCHAP will not propose to compete with CRM firms for contracts.

- Public Archaeology Laboratory and Collections Resource Center
  - Location for archaeologists, community members, students to process, catalogue, research, report, interpret, exhibit archaeological collections

- Professional Staff and Volunteer Opportunities
  - Fieldworkers
  - Artifact processors and curators
  - Artifact cataloguers
  - Photographers, writers, editors, graphic artists, publication designers
  - Educators
  - Marketers
  - Grant-writers

- Partners
  - University of Delaware
  - City of New Castle
  - Historical organizations
  - Schools
  - Archaeological Society of Delaware
  - Coming of Age Delaware

  Lawrence Moore has documented the growing number of ‘baby boomer’ retirees looking seeking fulfilling recreational and educational activities. NCCCHAP shall take advantage of these new prospects for potential volunteers, many of whom may have a long-term interest in archaeology. Sharing their contributions with family and friends creates a ripple effect. Expanding the NCCCHAP volunteer base promotes the goals and mission of the group, as well as helping to make the program economically sustainable.

- Financial plan
  - Income: contributed services, in-kind contributions, donations, grants, fees and sales
  - Expenses: stipends, equipment, supplies, utilities, publication
Proposed Project 5:
Interactive
Archaeology and Historic Preservation Programs

New, state-of-the-art, hands-on archaeology and preservation programs presenting a wider range of New Castle’s history will complement existing programs for community members and tourists.

Long Term Initiative:
New Castle lacks community-wide, multi-site exhibits that connect sites into a broader and more inclusive history. The object of such exhibits will be to help visitors imagine and visualize the towns’ history, and draw from experience to make personal connections that they can take home with them to remember in the future.

Short Term Initiative:
Interactive exhibits will help make archaeology real to school children and community members.

• Middle Schoolers After-School Program (see Project 3)
  • Teaching Archaeology and Material History by Doing: Collaboration among NCCHAP, University, High School, Middle School

• Community: Residents, owners, stewards
  • “Historic Preservation Workshop Series” — Demonstrate historic preservation procedures for restoring, repairing, maintaining historic buildings
  • “Walks and Talks” — “Many Voices Tours” and powerpoint presentations presenting different perspectives from which to “see” New Castle
  • “Writing History Through Archaeology” — Demonstrate archaeological procedures, planning through reporting. How archaeology differs from other forms of digging: goals and purposes, methods, collections study and disposition, analysis, interpretation
Next Steps for NCCHAP Strategic Planning

• Primary Stakeholder Groups
  ○ Major issues: vision, mission, core values, goals and objectives, short term initiatives, plan to present to other stakeholder groups

• Present revised Draft to Stakeholders
  ○ Website, newsletters, newspaper, online survey, town meeting

• Final Draft: Vision, Mission, Core Values, Goals and Objectives, Prioritized Short Term Initiatives
  ○ Prepare, approve, distribute

• Strategic Plan for STI Projects
  ○ Leadership, management, partner groups
  ○ Tasks and Schedule
  ○ Strategy to build volunteer base
  ○ Budget and funding
  ○ Marketing plan
  ○ Assessment
